

Company Name: Nostalgia Tours

Tag line: Be back before you ever left!

Premise for business:

Time travel excursions - clients visit a pre-arranged era, stay in arranged 'period' housing with a 'host'. For safety, excursions are carefully timed to avoid cataclysmic disasters.

For the website, I want to go with something with bold but calming colors, possibly natural hues of stone, blue, and green but I may have to adjust the palette depending on the images I am able to find for the site.

I want to be sure to present the company well with a polished website, I would prefer to make sure that all of my links work and that the site functions well. Ideally, I would like the images and layout of the site to be polished as well however, I plan on being more attentive to the function of the project as opposed to how the project looks.

I'm excited to give this a try, I really like the coding walk-throughs. They helped me really wrap my head around the work we're doing. It's a little scary getting off the map a bit without the walk-throughs but for the most part, the (little) struggles have helped me learn how to troubleshoot and look for the answers I need.

I took a lot of inspiration from:

<https://www.zicasso.com/luxury-tours>

<https://www.kensingtontours.com/tours/europe>

<https://www.abercrombiekent.com/>

All three are luxury travel sites with curated destinations/itineraries. (Surprisingly, they all had a very similar layout: banner at the top, grid with destinations below). They all used different colors though, so I'm excited to play with the formatting.
